150th year Community Parade celebration.

Calling all Phillip Island Landcare members, their family and friends.

We want you!

As part of the 150th year Phillip Island celebrations, a community parade is to be held on Saturday November 3 at 11.00am.

All ages are welcome – especially kids (and adults); who would like a trailer ride down the main street of Cowes.

Our group will join the parade in a tractor, pulling a trailer with haybales for seats. Those who can't fit in the trailer may walk alongside, handing out our new brochure and a free indigenous plant to the spectators.

Please enter this historic event in your diary and advise the group by email of your intent to join us, at:

Improving Phillip Island re-vegetation outcomes.

The Phillip Island Landcare Committee is currently working on ways to improve the success of the re-vegetation projects we undertake. One of the ways is to monitor and seek feedback of the sites in the months/years after the planting day. We will do this via a visit to the sites and complete of a simple survey.

We are looking for 2 – 4 volunteers to undertake the surveys. A great opportunity to be outdoors on local farm land, amongst recently planted trees. Volunteers would work as a team of two when visiting the sites. Training and support will be provided by the committee and staff. If this volunteer work interests you, email us at:

2018 Annual General Meeting.

A reminder our AGM is on Sunday December 2. The AGM will be held at Jenny and Barry Jackson's property 'Combley' from 11.00am. Their address is 265 Rhyll Newhaven Rd, Rhyll (corner of Harbison Rd).

Note, this is a change from the previously advertised location of Churchill Island.

After the AGM we will be walking on their property viewing previous plantings. The purpose of the walk is to educate ourselves and members of the best type of plants to grow in different locations on our Island.

These walks form part of our desire to improve the success of our re-veg works.

After the walk we'll be providing a superb BBQ lunch.

For catering purposes, please email:
